OUR TEAM

28 teachers and staff working alongside our director Steve Kennedy in four teams: sales, administration, pedagogy and IT. We all share a love for language learning, an ambition for growth and the capacity to adapt to client needs. Our R&D team develops teaching materials to achieve sustained and successful language learning.

Research and Development

We believe that it is essential to create cutting edge teaching materials updated and adapted to the specific needs of each of our clients. Our pedagogical R&D team is committed to the creation of new interactive course content and programmes. We are forever on the lookout for new techniques and techologies to integrate into our courses.

« Your World »

Your World, our in-house teacher traing programme, brings together our trainers several times a year to talk about new innovations in the field and to consolidate training and expertise.
